FIGHTING WITH A BABOON.

A Man's Desperate Hand to Hand Battle with a Monster Anthropoid.

I was walking through my lands and had my gun with me, and the baboons were screaming on the top of the rocky precipice that overhangs my homestead. The dogs in the farmyard, on hearing the noise the baboons were making, rushed up to the mountain and were soon engaged in a deadly fight. I took up my gun and climbed up the mountain for the purpose of assisting the dogs and in the hope of saving them from being torn to pieces. When I reached the summit of the krantz a number of baboons fled. I fired and wounded one in the shoulder; he was immediately pursued and tackled by the only dog left, the others having been torn to pieces. The struggle for life or death was taking place between the wounded baboon and the dog on the very brink of a precipice. I had not another cartridge for my gun, so I put it down and picked up a couple of large stones and walked to within a few yards of the spot.

I was just in the act of hurling one of them at the baboon when suddenly a tremendous male baboon, the largest I have seen, came straight at me in a bold and defiant manner, his eyes gleaming with anger and his huge jaws working together as if in anticipation of the crunching that was in store for me. I just had time to hurl the stone in my now upraised hand at him, when he was upon me. He seized me by the leg first and bit me with such violence that I thought every bone in my leg was smashed to atoms. I kicked with all my might, I tried to get hold of a stone I attempted to seize him by the throat, but he dealt him several blows with the fist, but it was all useless; the strength of the enraged African mandril overpowered me completely.

After he had finished with my leg he raised himself on his hind legs, put his arm around me and seized hold of me on the chest with his powerful jaws. What could I do? Every now and then he let go his hold of my breast and snapped at my throat. I seized him by the throat with my right hand and clinched my fingers, but he would not yield his grasp for a single moment. Every time I moved he dragged me nearer to the edge of the precipice, and we were now within three feet of the brink and the ground sloping down to it. I knew that if I for a moment lost my footing down we should go into the chasm below. The wounded baboon and the dog, that were responsible for the awful predicament in which I now found myself, had just rolled over into the abyss. We had been at it nearly an hour, and as the baboon showed no signs of releasing me I felt I should not be able to hold out much longer, as I am an old man, considerably over sixty.

At this stage I bethought myself of a penknife I had in my waistcoat pocket. If I could only get it out I might ward him off by stabbing him in the face. I gradually got my left hand into my pocket and got the knife, the brute scratching and tearing my face with his hands all the while. I got it to my mouth and held it there till I had an opportunity of opening it with my left hand. I then began stabbing and prodding him, but the knife was not large enough to do him much damage. I drew blood, however, the sight of which only made him more vicious still. By this time I had scarcely a vestige of clothing left, and my lacerated body bore tokens of what a south African baboon can do when he chooses to tackle and fight an unarmed man.

I was wondering how all this was going to end, when one of the dogs that had been wounded in the fight and had recovered sufficiently to make his way to where we were seized the animal from behind. I felt the brute wished to get at the dog. He threw himself from me upon the dog; they had one rough and tumble, and then the baboon walked suddenly away along the ridge of the precipice, looking back from time to time as if undecided whether he should renew the attack. It was some time before I could recover sufficient strength to descend the mountain. I got home, however, and the dog, too, after an encounter such as I shall never forget, and the life of which I hope never to experience again.—(Graft-Reinet Advertiser)

Soldier Elisha Ball's Will.

An odd will was filed at the probate office in Auburn on Tuesday. It was that of Elisha Ball, of Minot, and was dated in 1807, but the maker of the will had outlived all the witnesses to it, and it had to be proved from the handwriting of the man who drew it. It was the first case on record of the kind. Not a change had been made in the paper from the day it was drawn.—Kennebec (Me.) Journal.

Blooded Stallions Fight.
Two blooded stallions got out of their stable at Chillicothe recently and engaged in fierce contest. The brutes fought up and down the public road for nearly two miles, the battle continuing with unabated fury until one was dead and the other so seriously injured by the steel clad hoofs of his antagonist that he will probably have to be killed.—Philadelphia Ledger.

THE SILVER QUESTION.

Bland's silver bill, which it was hoped for the benefit of the people generally, would pass through Congress and become a law, has been placed on the calendar in the House, a number of gold bug Democrats and nearly all the Republicans voting to table it, or postpone action on it. It is probable that Mr. Bland will ask the Committee on Rules to name a time for a direct vote to be taken on the measure, and while that Committee is favorable to free coinage, and will doubtless comply with Mr. Bland's request, it is by no means certain that those who are opposed to the bill will permit a direct vote to be taken upon it until after the Presidential election.

The politicians East and West claim that the free coinage of silver is not a party question, as Democrats and Republicans vote for and against it. While that is true, it is well known that a majority of the Democratic party favor free coinage and a majority of R-republicans oppose it. As there is apparently no other way of getting silver remonetized than by making it an issue the sooner that is done the better for the majority of the people. Silver was demonetized for the benefit of bondholders, and it should be remonetized in the interest of the people. While the question might be settled outside of Congress by opening the mints to silver as well as gold the moneyed powers are determined that it shall not be, and as they are all powerful in Congress, the only recourse left the people, who want money made plentiful, and the product of our mines given a fair show, is to make free coinage an issue, and vote for no man for President or any other office who is not pledged in favor of it.

A gentleman who has been prominent in the councils of the Republican party in this State, suggests that the silver men nominate a ticket with Stewart, Bland, Teller, or some other unflinching advocate of free coinage, at the head, and prove to the gold men that we are sincere in our advocacy of remonetization.

THE SHERMAN COMMODITY ACT.

Teller of Colorado introduced a resolution calling upon the Secretary of the Treasury for information regarding the Sherman Commodity Silver Act of July, 1890. In compliance with that resolution Secretary Foster has sent to the Senate a statement that there had been purchased from the date the law took effect to February 29th of this year, 84,500,363 ounces of silver bullion, at a cost of $85,467,882, in payment of which there had been issued treasury notes to the amount of $85,236,212, leaving the remainder, $231,630 representing the amount of purchases at the mines, reports of which came in after the close of the month. There were coined under the Act, 28,939,475 standard dollars, with a wastage of $28,935, not yet adjusted, and there was held in the Treasury at the close of business, on the 28th of February last, 82,698,503 fine ounces of silver, which cost $61,437,330. Of the dollars, 24,001,627 are held in the Treasury for the redemption of Treasury notes; $4,380,000 had been covered into the Treasury on account of the seigniorage, and the remainder, $567,248, is held uncovered awaiting the adjustment of the seigniorage account. Of the eighty-four and a half million ounces of silver purchased under the Act less than one-third has been coined and the profit, or seigniorage, on the amount coined was about $4,500,000 of which $4,380,000 has been covered into the Treasury. The men who object to free coinage are entirely willing that the Government should make thirty cents profit on every silver dollar it coins, but vehemently protest against an attempt to give the bullion producer the value which the Government places on his product. The people are taxed to protect favored industries, and to pay bounties to encourage the development of others, and the miner who pays his proportion of the tax and the bounty is robbed by the Government, and it must be admitted that men of both parties sanction the robbery.

CALIFORNIA MIDLAND RAILWAY.

The California Midland Railway Company has been organized as the beginning of a new competing line from San Francisco to Denver. The Examiner says it is proposed to build the road from Sacramento to Bakersfield, and eventually east to Denver. Articles of incorporation have been filed, and the first ten per cent. of $1,000 a mile required by the laws of California has been paid.

negotiations when the San Francisco brewers were sold to an English syndicate, is managing the new railroad enterprise. He is a Western capitalist who has guaranteed $7,000,000 for the construction of the Midland road and its branches. It is not stated where the road from California east will cross the Sierra Nevada, or whether it is proposed to connect it with the Nevada Air Line and the Denver and Rio Grande Western, but that will probably be ascertained in a few months when, it is said, work will be commenced on the road.

A protest from a member of the Democratic State Central Committee against the appointment by that Committee of delegates to the National Convention is printed in the Journal. It is not probable that the Committee will care to make the selection. Several Democrats interviewed by the Journal thought the fairest and most satisfactory way of choosing delegates is to call a convention for the purpose.

An interesting voting contest is now progressing in Galveston Texas, to determine who is the most popular young woman in the State, in order that Governor Hogg may select her to christen the new cruiser which is to bear the name of the Lone Star State.

THE BEHRING SEA CONTROVERSY

Proceedings of Congress—Looking After American Interests—The Seal Question—A Sure Shot.

Behring Sea

Copyrighted 1892 by New York Associated Press. London, March 25.—Until the Liberal leaders examine the Behring Sea correspondence, which it is promised will be made public Monday, no party action on the question will be taken, but from the drift of the correspondence as laid before the United States Senate, they have already determined to adopt an attitude of opposition. A week ago the Liberal leaders were inclined to support Lord Salisbury and the Liberal organs took as adverse view of the position assumed by the United States. Whether it be a policy that dictates a change of front, or sense of justice to the American claims, it is certain that the opposition leaders have decided to attack Salisbury and arraign him as pursuing a needlessly vexatious course instead of assenting to a reasonable arrangement as offered by the Washington Government. Lord Salisbury's reply to President Harrison's last note should have been in possession of the Washington Cabinet to-day. Although no official statements regarding its character are attainable, the official belief is that Salisbury will agree to place an embargo on Canadian sealing in the open sea, provided the United States Government agrees to pay a compensation if the arbitration decision be against American claims.

Gladstone's organ, the Speaker, will tomorrow contain an inspired article which, after analyzing expert testimony, maintains that a renewal of the modus vivendi ought to be assented to by the British Government and continues, "Why should this Government be asked to promote the success of Canadian adventurers, who deliberately undertake a dangerous speculation on doubtful legality and utility to mankind. We are not going to war with the United States, and pending arbitration, it is unjust to refuse to continue the arrangement which is a part of the condition under which arbitration is agreed upon."

The Unionist organ, the Spectator, advocates a settlement that will open the seas to the Canadian sealers with a provision for recompense to Americans in the event of the decision of the arbitrators being against Great Britain.

Gold Bugs at Work.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—If Catchings returns to Washington in time a special order may be brought into the House on Monday for the immediate consideration of the Bland silver bill and pending amendments. Bland, during the afternoon session of the House, disclosed his plan by introducing a resolution fixing Monday, March 28th, as the date on which the bill be taken up and put upon passage. Accompanying the resolution is a provision giving the Speaker power to refuse to entertain any dilatory motion. The resolution went to the Committee on Rules. In view of the extreme closeness of the vote on the silver question as disclosed last night as an analysis of the tie vote on the test motion of Burrows to lay the Bland bill on the table, it is interesting. Of the 118 votes in favor of the motion 82 were cast by Democrats and 36 by Republicans. The negative vote shows 11 Republicans and the other 137 either Democrats or Alliance. Figuring on absences, according to their previously expressed ideas, an absolutely full vote show at least one majority for the silver men, but a full vote is practically unknown in the House, and the silver men concede when it comes to a very opponents to count on every member. The situation is still less encouraging to the silver men, as some men who always voted in favor of free coinage have now expressed themselves as disinclined, for political reasons, to further push the matter.

Senate Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—The doors of the Senate were re-opened at 3 p. m. and the legislative business resumed. The Senate bill appropriating $500,000 for a public building at Helena, Montana, was taken from the calendar and passed. The Senate then adopted resolutions offered by Stanford in respect to the memory of the late Senator Hoar. Eulogies were delivered by Stanford, Vest, Stewart, Voorhees, Bate, Dolph, Morgan and Felton, and then, as a further mark of respect, the Senate adjourned until Monday.

Looking After American Interests.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—The United States steamer Newark has arrived at La Guayra, Venezuela, to look after American interests during the revolution said to be in progress.

The House Committee on Agriculture today authorized a favorable report on the Paddock pure food bill with some amendments.

The Seal Question

WASHINGTON, March 25.—The Senate today spent two and a half hours in a further consideration of the Behring sea arbitration treaty. The vote is expected on motion to ratify the treaty some time next week.

The discussion has established a strong probability that the treaty will be ratified. Senators who oppose it as a whole are few in number and find their principal representation in the California. A formidable opposition is made up of members who believe the treaty should be a compact to withhold the exchange of the final ratification until Great Britain consents to renew the modus vivendi. It is represented by members of the Foreign Relations Committee that the adoption of such a resolution would defeat the treaty, for Great Britain would never consent to be placed in an attitude of renewing the modus vivendi through any fear of the results.

There is another element in the Senate that seeks to follow the ratification with a resolution endorsing the President's action up to this point, and asserting strongly the purpose of this Government to protect our property in the seal islands at all hazards, pending arbitration. This element appeared to-day to have gathered strength.

House Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—The free coinage fight had a demoralizing effect on the attendance in the House to-day, and at no time during the day would the roll call have developed a quorum. It was impossible to take decisive action on important measures.

After prayer by the chaplain there were a number of members on their feet asking for corrections in the Record and Journal. Most of these were directed toward the roll call in the Record, which was incorrectly printed by the printing office.

Lord of Maine made a sarcastic remark: "I am glad to notice that this multiplicity of errors which has apparently occurred in this Congress, is not evidence of obliquity as it has been in some Congresses." [Laughter.]

The House then went into a Committee of the Whole on the private calendar. Three hours were consumed in the consideration of the bill for the relief of the personal representatives of Henry H. Sibley, the inventor of the "Sibley" tent, but no determination was reached.

So Say We All.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—A message from the President, transmitting a communication from the District Commissioner, accompanied by a letter from the Chairman of the Executive Committee of the G. A. R. Encampment, to be held next September, was laid before the Senate to-day. An appeal is made for $100,000, one-half to be paid by the district, for the expenses of the encampment. The President says in part: "It seems to me it would be highly appropriate for Congress to suitably aid in making this demonstration impressive, and extending to those soldiers whose lives a beneficent Providence prolonged, an opportunity to see, in secure and peaceful development and prosperity, which now so happily prevails at the National Capital, the fruits of their sacrifice and valor."

Gordon Gets Fourteen Years.

SACRAMENTO, March 25.—Judge Van Fleet this afternoon sentenced Harry Gordon to fourteen years' imprisonment at Folsom, he having been convicted of participation in the murder of Robert Allen last May. The sentence of J. D. Smith, the chief conspirator, heretofore convicted of murder in the first degree, was postponed until next Friday, when he will be sent up for life. Gordon got off lightly because he was a witness for the State.

Late this afternoon Judge Van Fleet decided to admit George Smith, bell for the murder of Patrick Brannigan, on the 8th inst., to bail in the sum of $10,000.

An Incipient Riot.

KENT, Ohio, March 25.—An outbreak in the nature of a riot occurred this morning, which for a time threatened serious results. Yesterday some Erie switchmen were discharged and new men put in. After night the discharged men and friends gathered in the yards and demanded reinstatement, and upon being refused they attacked the new men. The police interfered and quiet was restored, but after midnight they attacked the police with revolvers. The fire was returned and two of the mob badly wounded. They then left.

A Sure Shot.

REDWOOD CITY, Cal., March 25.—A. C. old, committed suicide by blowing his head off with a shotgun loaded with bird shot. The entire right side of his face and head was carried away. He was a widower with four little children, and a member of the Workmen and Odd Fellows' Lodges.

Getting Pointers.

DRYTON, Cal., March 25.—Roman Levitsky and Nicholas Boydanoff, mining experts, sent by the Imperial Government of Russia, have been here the past two days examining our mines and studying the methods used in extracting gold from sulphurets.

Silver Purchases.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—Offers of silver to the Treasury Department to-day aggregated $39,000 ounces. The amount purchased was 170,000 ounces at prices ranging from $3.8830 to $3.8834.

Fatal Explosion.

ADRIAN, Mich., March 25.—By an explosion of a gasoline stove to-day Mr. Henry Lords and two little children were fatally burned.

New Extradition Treaty.

PARIS, March 25.—The new extradition treaty between France and the United States was signed this morning.

The Reno Lyceum.

The programme rendered at the Lyceum last evening was one of the finest that has yet been put before the people of Reno. The lecture delivered by Hon. R. L. Fulton on "American Characteristic" was well worth hearing. It showed that he is thoroughly conversant with the instincts and capabilities as well as the hobbies and failings of the American people. He drew some very true comparisons between the American people and different nations of Europe. Mr. Fulton showed throughout his address a vein of humor which was pleasing and served to hold the attention of the audience throughout. A German evening with Goethe was something out of the usual order in entertainments heretofore given here, and was thoroughly appreciated by those present. The remainder of the programme was exceptionally good and deserving of special mention, but to do so would require space already occupied.

The stereotyped question, "Have you got your fishing tackle ready?" is standing at Matt Parrott's and anyone passing through the door is expected to answer the same and give a minute description of his rig. Don't forget, though, to say that it is the best rig that will be on the river this Summer, and if you can possibly spare the time you will be expected to tell all about the largest trout you lost last year and just where it occurred, so that the fish may be caught this season.

The Santa Fe Railroad has concluded to reduce passenger rates, and has notified the Western Traffic Association that on June 15th, 1892, it will establish the rates on second-class passage to the Pacific Coast as follows: From Chicago and common points, $34.30; from Mississippi river points, $28.80; from Missouri river points, $14.30.

An exchange very appropriately says: There is something wrong in the eternal fitness of things when a minister gets $10 and a good supper for performing a marriage ceremony which takes but five minutes, while an editor who takes two hours to set up a list of wedding presents only gets a piece of cake, and often not that.

When Christ Was Born.

Speculative and philosophical writers have long since established the fact that we have no proof that Dec. 25 is the date of the birth of the Messiah. At one time the beginning of the Christian era was supposed to conform with the great event above mentioned, but it has been pretty clearly established that Christ was not born on the day we celebrate as Christmas or at any other time during a winter month.

The date now unanimously agreed upon by scholars is April 5, not April 6 of the "year of our Lord," but April 5, 4 B. C. This error in our mode of reckoning time is supposed to have arisen from the fact that the dating of time "A. D." was not introduced until about the year 327 of the Christian era.—St. Louis Republic.

Reducing His Weight.

"I don't believe you are quite so heavy as you were," said the barber to Cumsio, during the process of shaving.

"No, that was really a big slice you took out of my chin just then," replied Cumsio.—New York Epoch.

Paper Floors That Will Not Burn.

Paper properly treated with chemicals and then subjected to great pressure is being used for flooring material and for general use in building as a fire resisting substance.—New York Journal.

Dyspepsia

Makes the lives of many people miserable, and often leads to self-destruction. Distress after eating, sour stomach, sick headache, heartburn, loss of appetite, a faint, "all gone" feeling, bad taste, coated tongue, and irregularity of the bowels, are some of the more common symptoms. Dyspepsia does not get well of itself. It requires careful, persistent attention, and a remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which acts gently, yet surely and efficiently, to cleanse the stomach and other organs, regulate the digestion, creates a good appetite, and by thus overcoming the local symptoms removes the sympathetic effects of the disease, banishes the headache, and refreshes the tired mind.

"I have been troubled with dyspepsia. I had but little appetite, and what I did eat little good. In an hour after eating I would experience a faintness, or tired, all gone feeling, as though I had not eaten anything. My trouble, I think, was aggravated by my business, which is that of a painter, and from being more or less shut up in a room with fresh paint. Last spring I took Hood's Sarsaparilla—took three bottles. It did me an immense amount of good. It gave me an appetite, and my food relished and satisfied. I was a nervous, irritable, and dissatisfied man, and I was cured."

Hood's Sarsaparilla sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Prepared only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.
